AFRICA
AWARD
2026

INDIVIDUAL NOMINATION DOCUMENT

Celebrating sacrifice, initiative and strategic leadership for posterity

Scripture teaches us that love conquers all, and in the words and life of Our Lord Jesus Christ, we learn that love truly changes everything. Indeed "Greater love has no one than this; to lay down one's life for one's friends."—John 15:13. This award exists to recognize hope, peace, dignity, grace, and sacrifice. It honors people nobody applauded. People nobody noticed. People who selflessly gave their lives in service without complaint, even when they had nothing.

Heroes of Africa Award is a platform created to honor people in different categories—but this is not an award of wealth, titles, or positions. This is an award that recognizes courage over adversity. It recognizes resilience in times of life's challenges and recognizes hope, strength and peace. The very things money cannot buy. This is not a story of rags to riches but the very virtues that creates these stories in societies. The heroes of Africa award, is an award of hope. Our nominees are everyday people—teachers, guardians, custodians, watchmen, parents, athletes—ordinary individuals who have done extraordinary things. because no matter how much we rise it is our journey that inspires.

It is that child who once walked to school barefoot and is now an athlete who has transformed an entire community. It is that custodian who has served the same school faithfully for fifty years, seen by many as "just a janitor," yet has shaped generations simply by showing up with dignity and commitment. That teacher who taught for decades and quietly changed lives—students who later returned to say, "I am in university because you sacrificed. You bought my books.

You bought my shoes. You bought my uniform. "It is that parent who lost a child... or a spouse... and still found the strength to raise children on an empty plate and an empty stomach—sending them to school without shoes, but never without hope. That is our Hero that we are setting out to honour and to celebrate.

It is that person who stood with homeless children and orphans when no one was watching. Nobody saw them—but we see them.

It is that teacher who earned just enough to survive, yet still opened their home to an orphaned child and giving them an education. It is that forgotten sportsman in a village who ran with discipline and determination—and through that hard work changed the lives of parents and siblings, paid school fees, and even built schools in their community.

A moment where the efforts and sacrifices that have been overlooked are focused upon.

So this is not just an award. It is an honor. It is a privilege. It is the grace God placed in our hearts to remember those whose effort and tales of valour would otherwise have been swept under the rug of oblivion. It is a beam of light we shine on those whose lights were dimmed—yet who overcame every odd placed before them. Through this platform, we give them power. We give them a voice. And when others hear their stories, they are inspired—to help out. It is not only a celebration of those we honor today—it is a pivot point. A moment where the efforts and sacrifices have been overlooked are focused upon. Where those who served quietly are finally celebrated openly. We want them to live freely, to enjoy the best that life can offer them right now—the honor of being called a hero. A hero celebrated not only in Africa, but throughout the world. God bless you all as you nominate and help us achieve this Heroes of Africa Awards, Kenya 2026 is such a unique platform conceptualized to celebrate the heroes of our generation from different facets of life.

I say of Our generation because the different generations before ours had various ways of celebrating achievement and selfless initiatives that impact Communities. Our folklorist great fore bearers sung songs and made fables to celebrate bravery and selflessness. Our nationalists gave state commendation and Presidential awards to national heroes. All these sometimes feel short because the heroes of the communities sometimes is that single mother who against all odds propped a family of seven educating them through thick and thin helping them to achieve that destiny that shines bright in the end.

That man who puts a side his ambitions to educate his brothers and sisters being a child parent so that his kin get education and placement in society.

Through this awards we get the sole to cast a rear beam of light on the sacrifices, the pain and unexpected initiative that our local Heroes make everyday beyond the call of duty to salvage those less fortunate than themselves. By Heroes of Africa award we want to bring such stories to the fore to encourage those currently having to bear the burden for their communities. To let them know in Christ's own words that there is no temptation taking them but such as is common to men. And that god will provide a way of escape.

We intend to celebrate the sleepless nights and the pain that comes with it. Feel free to nominate and appreciate that special someone with out whose sacrifice a generation would have perished.

Lets join together and celebrate and let the next generation know that it matters to be there for others, it matters to lift up the lowly and that communities notice and celebrate it

God Bless you as you join us for the Awards!
